

Browning Command Ops Elite 40

The Command Ops Elite 40, a trail camera that packs 40MP of clarity into a sleek, compact design. Built to excel in the field, this budget powerhouse captures every essential detail, day or night. With a 0.3-second trigger speed and a robust 20 metre detection range, this camera won't miss a single movement, ensuring you're always a step ahead. Paired with Illuma-Smart Technology, which automatically adjusts the infrared flash for clear, balanced images at night.

The Command Ops Elite 40 features 900p HD+ videos with sound, to capture the best videos possible of game activity on your property, while still delivering users the best battery life in the industry.

Designed for the rugged outdoors, the Command Ops Elite 40 is as tough as it is compact, with a durable casing that fits anywhere and a long battery life powered by 6 AA batteries, making it ideal for extended use. Note: Nighttime video is limited to a maximum duration of 20 seconds. This is to prevent extreme battery drain.
